A wonderful mixture of Renaissance, Celtic, Folk and World music. Performed with flair and originality. 16 MP3 Songs WORLD: Celtic, CLASSICAL: New Age Details: Under Loch and Quay continues Bedlam Abbey's the tradition started in their first, self-titled CD. From English country dances to Sea Chanteys, gypsy melodies, all the way to modern Celtic jigs, Bedlam Abbey will lead you on a delightful voyage of musical discovery - proving that everything old CAN be new again. The band's influences, which include everything from classical guitar to swing and jazz and good old-fashioned rock and roll, combine to form a unique take on some well-known favorites. Mandolin frenzy occurs in The Wind that Shakes the Barley, then a beautiful soprano voice and litling violin lull you to serenity during Blow the Candle Out. The haunting rendition of Cold, Windy, Haily Night will send shivers up your spine just as it ends with a thundering version of the Rakes of Kildare. Plenty of surprises and wonderful music to be had on this great CD.
