Forex1000pips Best latest Trading software robot 2013 How Forex1000pips Robot works: After being installed in a chart, Forex1000pips analyzes current (market) situation: Three trend indicators inside Robots algorithm locate an exact spot indicating the beginning of a trend. Two filtering indicators filter out all potentially false signals. And only after all these procedures are finished, the two orders are being open (in one direction). Two orders are necessary to set different Take Profit levels. The Take Profit levels are set based on Fibonacci Retracement principle. After closing of the first order on Take Profit, the second order is transferred to break even. Thus, even if the trend after having closed the first profitable order would reverse itself, the second order will close with no loss.
