The Auto Trend Forecaster is a complex software that does not involve any of the regular indicators used in financial markets nowadays, like the MACD, RSI or moving averages. It adapts itself to current market conditions using complicated algorithms based on price action and out custom indicators. The indicator will gives you trading signals Buy or Sell + stop loss levels indicated in the popup alert window and graphically - by drawing a color line on your mt4 chart. The indicator is easy to use: all you have to do is to press buy or sell button whenever you get a signal to enter a trade. What will you receive after purchase?
