This is the combined version of my Psychic/Mediumship audio development course with Shamanic Principles that also includes my Past Life Regression and my Meeting Your Guide meditations as seen on my website: kerin . Here are the details about the course from my website: --- Experience This Unique Psychic Channelling And Mediumship Audio Course: Learn how I use psychic channelling and mediumship skills to communicate with the Spirit Realm to receive information about the future - and to give psychic readings to others! This six module psychic channelling audio programme covers a diverse scope of information and hands-on practice sessions too, which include: Introduction Module: An introduction to the Psychic Channelling & Mediumship Skills Audio Course. Module One: What is psychic channelling? A definition of psychic channelling. Examples of psychic channelling as recorded in history and as evidenced in a variety of, some times diverse and seemingly incompatible, spiritual belief systems.

Contemporary examples of psychic channelling and mediumship. How to begin to distinguish a true channelling experience - what you might hear and see. Scientific evidence to support mediumship channelling. Some of my own experiences of receiving information psychically. Module Two: How might you prepare yourself to receive channelled information? What might you experience when channelling? Conscious and unconscious channelling. What it means to visualise in the context of psychic channelling. A remote viewing example of my own, gained in a group situation. Module Three: Meaningful coincidence? Gathering evidence of effective channelling. Discernment - differentiating between your own internal dialogue and true channelled information. Two examples of my own experiences of receiving channelled information - one which was very clear and the other which was more vague, but both of which could be clearly identified, when the events they referred to manifested in the world news. Two situations when I misinterpreted the psychic information I received - why I did so. Understanding what comes from you and what comes from Other. Module Four: A guided psychic trance channelling practice session. In this module you have the opportunity to enter into trance, in order to practice a channelling method that I use often, in order to allow for the possibility that you too might receive information directly from Spirit, by using this process. Relax and enjoy the experience as I gently talk you through the process while beautiful music plays quietly in the background. This is your first opportunity in this audio course to seek to consciously enter into communication with a guide or guides and to receive verifiable information in the process. Module Five: A mental mediumship channelling method. The Ultradian rhythm and how it influences us each day of our lives. This is the method that I use when I give psychic readings to people and as I talk with my guides in my day-to-day life in an eyes open state of awareness. You will have the opportunity to follow my example and copy the method, as I gently talk you through the process - while pleasant music plays quietly in the background. This module also includes an evidence gathering element. Module Six: Direct Voice Trance Channelling. What might you experience when attempting direct voice communication? My own experiences of recording direct voice communication channelling sessions. Why do so many psychic people receive different impressions about the afterlife and the spirit realm? You will have the opportunity to participate in a direct voice channelling experience, as I guide you through a method I use, which you can follow in order to explore the possibilities as they exist for you too. Conclusion Module: A re-cap of what we've covered in the Psychic Channelling Audio Programme. Future opportunities for developing your skills. Bonus tracks: I've now added my PAST LIFE REGRESSION and

MEETING YOUR GUIDE AUDIOS to this course, so now you can have the opportunity to explore past life regression and enter into a mental journey to seek to meet your spirit guide too! Past Life Regression Meditation Audio Download: I'm now making available a special PAST LIFE REGRESSION audio meditation download. This download is designed to offer you the option to experience altered states of awareness in which you may be able to recover hidden information from your subconscious mind about past lives that you may have lived. As used in seminars... The principles used in this audio include some of the methods that I use in my past life regression workshops to help people explore past life memories. As you listen to this download you can enter a light hypnotic state and as the programme develops you're then given the opportunity to decide whether you'd like to explore the potential of a past life. If you decide to do so, the programme continues to guide you into a process through which such memories might surface. Past life regression is widely believed to be both a beneficial and enlightening experience. Years of experience... I've been guiding people through past life experiences for years and over this time some amazing information has surfaced, including names of the personalities involved, historical details which have corresponded with subsequent evidence and more. Indeed, as I write, just this last weekend I was presenting a past life regression workshop and the participants concluded that it was a breakthrough experience of a very positive kind... where some great evidence was revealed. You can use this audio time and time again... If you've ever wondered about whether you may have lived before then the experience of past life regression could help to answer your questions. What's more you can listen to this audio as many times as you like and as you do you may find that you revisit different aspects of the same past life, or, on different occasions you may find that you uncover memories from a variety of past lives. And more! It's my belief that by studying this psychic channelling audio download course you will improve your chances of consciously perceiving psychic information - while avoiding certain pitfalls that might otherwise hold you up. Come and join me in a fun, inspiring and very informative hands-on audio adventure through the world of trance channelling and mediumship skills. Like many others, I became more sure of my skills as I practiced using them. You can now discover what I do and how I do it in this special programme. I've put a lot of work into this psychic channelling audio set. I believe you will enjoy the results. Best wishes...
