Write up in the July 2006 Motown Monitor, Detroit Eva Bio: Eva Singer, songwriter, musician, arranger EDM Entertainment Email: evasoulmusic@yahoo.com No boundaries is the only way to define EVA and her voice. Whether its her music, voice, songwriting or acting ability. A diverse personality and talent is the make up for the passion for music that has always been evident as Eva has gone from singing, dancing, acting and songwriting in her childhood years to an international recording artist as a young adult. Where there was music, Eva would find her way there. Finding the path to the stage whether to sit on the stage to watch her favorite band perform or be the main attraction herself. Since elementary school and throughout high school, EVA joined band and held first chair playing the trumpet; she played trumpet at the University of Michigan and Eastern Michigan University as a guest in their bands and being the youngest member of the Heritage Band of Michigan. EVA was a member of a local gospel choir in Detroit and traveled with the choir singing and acting in performances at local colleges and church events. EVA soon learned that she was ready to step it up and take it to a professional level. EVA started taking voice lessons and began a new avenue in her career in classical/musical theater. Also, learning the ability to sing in Spanish, Italian, Polish, German, Latin and Arabic, Eva says Was the best challenge of my life! Simultaneously, EVA went from recording demos with a DJ in her hometown to meeting concert promoters who invested in EVA and along with her mother, EVA was able to record her first professional demo in New York. From this time, EVA signed a single deal with an independent label in Canada, became a household name to Torontos radio audience and started performing across the U.S and Canada. EVA began recording her follow up singles and continued in her road as an up and coming starlet. While most teenagers were hanging out at the mall or learning how to drive, EVA was becoming an executive in the music business. A second single Never Give Up (cdbaby.com/evasoul2) from which she was able to collaborate with Tito Puente, Jr., signed to a her second deal in Canada and achieved worldwide acclaim on radio and in clubs. Evas most recent music performances include, (Detroit, MI) Club Sevin, Club Rain, Club Bleu (aired on local Detroit television), Silkies, The Limit Lounge, Hot Rock and Greektown Casino. EVA's performance at the Soul Cafe in Manhattan, NY was a smash as she tested new original material and did a rendition of "Fallin" with the band; it was off the hook! EVA also performed with Rap Artist SAINT, their newly recorded song "If You Believe" at a new artist showcase at Club Cheetah in Manhattan, New York. EVA has been lending her vocals to many hip hop projects, recently recorded on the upcoming albums of Marco Polo (coming soon) and Brando and others of the Goodfella Crew out of Detroit. Evas most recent film project was on the movie Life Goes On (Planet Four Films) starring Obie Trice . In addition, EVA has made appearances and performed at many events, including a private function for Russell Simmons and Jon Secadas birthday party in Miami to name a few. EVAs constant effort to be visible to her audience makes a strong connection for an artist and strong willed woman that has found a place in the hearts of people near and far. Website

About Whytenoize Kwikstix: Whytenoize is a Trance, Dance, Techno, and Rock producer, performer and songwriter. Whytenoize got his introduction into the Dance genre collaborating on projects with the great Freddy Starr. Whytenoize was also an accomplished lead guitarist for the former alternative rock band Ixion's Wheel and also lead guitarist and front man for Alternative Rap Core band Vindictive Nature. Ixion's Wheel enjoyed having music aired on commercial radio stations (WDRE) and College Radio stations (WSOU) in the NY, NJ area. As Vindictive Nature, we were able to land a deal with the
