American Folk Music into poetic Art Rock. 5 MP3 Songs FOLK: Angry, ROCK: Americana Details: "Omen Dirt (Low-5)" contains the Death Folk and Artistic Rock visions of Dr. Martin Jack Rosenblum, with the Last Canyon Band. Produced by Michael Hoffmann, this album includes the epic Rock song entitled "Standing On The Gallows" that, along with the other Folk songs and one Blues poem, forever changes the borderline at the wedge of secret places we share when lights flicker within our dark fires of startling amazement. Stark Folk idioms easily flow alongside brutal Rock and Roll at it its most immanent implosion on this Martin Jack Rosenblum album. Recorded live in the studio, "Omen Dirt (Low-5)" is a majestic and ragged, simple and expansive album of new Martin Jack Rosenblum compositions in 2006 and, for the first time, the Last Canyon Band, created to manifest Martin Jack's verbal and sonic Americana visions, makes its snarling appearance. With each of Martin Jack Rosenblum's albums, bands are birthed to carry the visionary load. On "Omen Dirt (Low-5)" the Last Canyon Band plays Martin Jack's songs with a numinous vengeance. Martin Jack Rosenblum is composer, vocalist, and on this album plays his unique guitar, harmonica and banjo styles with exceptional fury. "Omen Dirt (Low-5)" is a modernist field recording containing an epic sink hole.
