It stated, "As long as you stay in the will of God, God will supply your every need. You will never be successful at anything outside His will." With that in mind, Tachina set out to perform in a most profound fashion in several entertainment mediums that included church choirs, radio, musical theatre, and television. "Bless the child, who has her own." So it is said. Tachina Danielle is truly a child with her own. Blessed with the gift of song, Tachina's mission is to sing to the glory and honor of God. Surrender-Tachina's First Album release 2000 I wanted to be able to reach the masses because that's the reason that God gave me his anointing. In writing the lyrics I just used personal experiences to draw from and God gave me the formula. I had never written a song before and one night I was in my bed and I had asked God to give me the ability to write songs like "Fred Hammond", of Commissioned at the time, because his songs really touched your heart and inspired change or ministered to your spirit, and I wanted my songs to do that too. Well, I was not "in fellowship" with God at the time but he awakened me out of my sleep with this song and basically began ministering to me. I wanted to let the people know, from personal experience, that no matter what the problem or situation, if we would just "Surrender" our hearts, minds, bodies, and souls to Jesus that He would work out anything else. Still Here-Tachina's New Hit 2003 Release Tachina was inspired to go back into the studio after the success of her first album "Surrender." "The reason why I chose to do another CD was because I had a lot more situations/experiences inside of me that I needed to get out of my brain. I experienced some major trials and tribulations since the last project, some were self-induced and others were devil-orchestrated, but I came out victorious and I thought the world needed to hear about it. The Devil tried to stop me, block me, and do whatever he could think of to discourage me from completing the mission that God sent me on," states Tachina in a 2003 Gospel magazine article. She went on to state, "So many people were delivered, saved, healed, comforted, and set free by the lyrics from the last CD that I couldn't afford to abort this mission. So, this CD is simply my poke at the Devil letting him know that though he knocked me down, I'm not distressed, but one things for certain, I'm Still Here!!"
