I'm just getting started, and I have a lot to learn, but buried in my head is 56 years of music from Radio, Television, and of course the "The Movies" From South Pacific to Die Another Day, all of the GOOD Stuff is in my brain. I want to do similar music, and make it even better. This is the first Music I came up with using mostly Physical Instruments. One day I will actually learn how to play some of them. My equipment and my abilities have come a long way since. My Movie Score for Lia Scott Price's "Dominion", is a good example, as well as the score for the Movie "The Guardian" that is in Post production, and will be released soon. I use a Roland X8 Fantom KeyBoard. I use other synthesizer equipment as well that I run my physical Instruments through as well. I have so many musical genres that I want experiment with and make some enjoyable musical adventures for the listener. I'm submitting another CD today called "Reducing Inertia" also pre Roland that I just enhanced a bit. Your going to be surprized at the Results.
