Bernadette McCallion is a singer-songwriter, and the vocalist for the ambient electronica outfit Pitch Black Dream. Her first solo full-length release, CRY WOLF, is now available. Tracks from CRY WOLF can be heard in Daniel Zirilli's "The Champagne Gang" starring Bokeem Woodbine ("Dead Presidents"), on NBC's "Passions," MTV's "Camp Jim" and in the indie film, "Just Add Pepper." The title track can also be heard in the upcoming martial arts thriller, "Book of Swords." "House of Straw" was featured on the nationally syndicated radio show Net Music Countdown when Bernadette was the show's spotlight artist. Tracks from the CD can regularly be heard on XM Satellite Radio. Combining some of the heavier sounds of alternative rock with infectious and quirky hooks, Bernadette has developed a sound unlike her peers. Guitarist Rich Gaglia and drummer John DiGiulio (of the NYC-based band Psych!), joined her in the studio to craft this genre-hopping collection of songs. Her previously released self-titled EP made the rounds at college radio throughout the U.S. Canada. Critics gave it four stars, calling it "utterly impressive," "ethereal and emotive," and "haunting." Now, "Cry Wolf" is showing the same promise as its predecessor. Bernadette can also be heard contributing vocals on Pushing Red Buttons's self titled debut, on and the Marlowe's "Sugarbursts and Thunderbolts" -- both available on CDBaby. * * *

Bernadette is also the vocalist for the ambient-pop-electronica outfit Pitch Black Dream. The band's debut CD "Never Going Home" is available exclusively at CD Baby for a limited edition run. Read more about it at cdbaby.com/pitchblackdream or see the band's site at pitchblackdream.com
