Joes music is flavored more to the juke joint end of the blues: a bit rough and tons of fun. 20 MP3 Songs
BLUES: Electric Blues, BLUES: Guitar Blues Details: "Joe Price is the real deal. His lyrics are original yet with the feel and texture of traditional blues from the past. He draws on his life experiences and sings from his heart. He has a wide range of styles which, combined with his great guitar playing and his soulful singing, make Joes CDs a favorite at the shop." --McGregor Gaines, President National Resophonic Guitars Joe Price had the house on its feet during our national broadcast of "Whad'ya Know?" in La Crosse. His musicianship was superb and our audience found his blues to their liking. There are none better. Michael Feldman -- "Whad'ya Know?" -- Public Radio International Joe Price, an artist cut from the same cloth as the traveling blues men of years past. Despite his critical success, Joe has remained devoted to his fans, giving his best to each and every person, each and every night. He is truly a tangible person in every sense, even while he is a legend-in-the-making. Price has treated lucky patrons and the staff at Luthers Blues to fine shows time and time again. And all have developed an appreciation for him extending far beyond his musical talent. We would like to share him with the rest of Madison. Although Joe is still the Midwests best-kept secret, he wont be for long. --LUTHER BLUES Madison Wisconsin
