Lightness meets melancholy and make sweet ironic love. 10 MP3 Songs POP: Piano, POP: Delicate Details: As the listener is seduced into the richly flowing soundscape and frequently dark lyrics of their self-titled debut album, the exceptional skill and creativity exhibited by Lisa Lindal the Luminol is easy to forget. While it unabashedly manifests itself at the cross-currents of independant pop and mainstream music, LL&L nonetheless encompasses an impressive range of styles and reflections without ever betraying its continuity. This is a band which is equally pleasurable for both obsessed music snobs and casual listeners alike. Lisa Lindals incredible voice and extraordinary piano-playing give the sensual melodies and lush production of this album all of the glory that it truly deserves. Lisa Lindal is constantly developing intriguing new material and is has long been respected and admired by many of the talented musicians in Stockholm, Sweden. You will undoubtedly be proud to say that you were among the first to enjoy her music! Luminol is a chemical used by crime scene investigators to locate bodily liquids, primarily blood, which have been cleaned away or removed from a crime scene. When sprayed onto the suspected area and viewed under ultra-violet light, luminol reacts with hemogloben from the blood or fluid, previously unseen by the naked eye, causing luminesce for about 30 seconds. Luminol is also a kick-ass band which glows all night long.
