Contemporary Gospel Details: Barry and Terri are a husband and wife team who have been involved in praise and worship music in both large and small churches for the last 16 years or so. They not only love to worship God but also love to train and encourage people so they can be all that they can be in God. Terri has always sensed God in her life and can't really pinpoint when she became a christian. She has done classical vocal training in her teenage years and now teaches contemporary vocals to high school students and adults. Barry took up guitar in his late teens and became a christian when he attended university. He works as a sales manager for a global company. They both met at church and were married in 1991 and have been on an awesome journey together since then. They first recorded praise and worship songs in 2003 for their album "God Gave The Cross". They put them on the internet and received thousands of downloads. Their latest album "Forsaking All" has 14 praise and worship songs. Songs off this album such as "Thank You For The Cross", "You Are God", "All Honour" and "Forsaking All" are starting to be used in churches and receive airplay around the world. They have three children (girl and two boys) and a bunny rabbit and currently reside in Tauranga, New Zealand.
