Her earthy evocative voice has been praised by fans and critics alike... Scott Petito's distinctive fretless bass playing has graced hundreds of albums. His studio and production credits range from James Taylor to the Band, Keith Richards to Dave Brubeck. This CD is one of the most beautiful combinations you'll ever hear. "In the Silence" Keyboard Magazine - March 1999 by Jim Aikin "A liittle folk, a little pop, a little new age, and more than a little magic. From the pseudo-Mark Isham trumpet and luscious fretless bass to the "world music" wood flute and Udu drums, from the country fiddle and steel-string to the gauzy wash of ECM reverb, "In the Silence" is a peaceful genre-buster. And just when you think you've got it pegged, Ritter starts singing. Her voice is a caress, and the lyrics are straight from the heart. "Petito is mainly a guitarist, and his keyboard workstays in the background, but he always finds just the right synth line to move the tune forward. He's also the producer, and the prodction is gemlike -- detailed, airy, balanced, intimate, with not a note out of place. For fine music and fine studio chops, look no further. "
