A classical/folk fusion inspired by watching nature bloom and transform in the city. 6 MP3 Songs

CLASSICAL: New Age, FOLK: Gentle Details: Michael Strening Jr. is going to catch you off guard. His music had restauranteurs in Italy, who initially denied Michael the opportunity to play, throwing open the doors and windows of their restaurants and inviting people on the street to come in and hear his music. Michael's live performances explode with energy; he unleashes the passion and beauty of his music on the piano, while pausing in between pieces to share the stories about the people and places that inspire his music. A natural storyteller, Michael can tell you about leaves on a tree in a way that has you picture the tree you climbed in your youth, or make you laugh as only your best friend can make you laugh. Michael's music comes from having been a student of life. Michael spent 3 years living in Italy, and he has journeyed across Europe and the United States. His music emerges from the understanding and empathy of having shared his love of life and music with people of many backgrounds. As a result, his music crosses boundaries to create compassion and community; reaching across culture and language to create understanding. "Please take a moment to listen to my music. It would be an honor for me. Send me an email and let me know what you think. I know you would enjoy both of my albums. I've written all of the music as a form of solace and understanding. And I hope it can provide the same for you." - Michael Strening Jr. "Michael's music is passionate and beautiful.
