Songs that are at once political, passionate, lyrical, romantic, angry, loving, uplifting, and embracing. 14 MP3 Songs FOLK: Political Folk, FOLK: Celtic Folk Details: Paul Arenson is a a sometimes singer, songwriter, teacher and political activist, born in NY, resident physically in Japan and Boston. Puccini (Yes, I almost became an opera singer) and Seeger were both influences. Also Phil Ochs, Joan Baez...I am not sure how much potato latkes played a part in my early development, but for those who care, I thought I would mention it. Why is this album listed under Celtic? Well, that was a major influence, and you can hear it in Strikers Line, which I wrote after listening to the songs of Ewan MacColl. Current favorites are Alistair Hulett and Dick Gaughan. My website is tokyoprogressive.org Visitors to this non profit website can make a donation to help support my work on behalf of social and political activism as well as critical media literacy in education. I will send anyone who contributes the equivalent of the CD and shipping price or more (about 1700 yen) a copy of Tofu Spaghetti.Maybe most convenient for folks in Japan.
