Details: Alfred Woodley brings his own artistic stylings and influences of the past and present with a pure strong range of raw smooth vocal talent. His onstage performance puts you in the mind of R&B greats Al Green and Marvin Gaye. Watching him gives you the immediate impression that he loves what he does. That's why attention to this gifted artist is rapidly showing up on the radar with audiences and booking agents. Recently I caught up with Alfred in Los Angeles at the Ascap SongWriters Convention and I overheard him tell someone that he describes his music as People Music. He passionately explained he didn't want to be pigeon-holed as a particular artist selling to a specific demographic but an artist selling to the people. The Intro song "Thick Brown Round" describes the beauty of the Black/Brown woman. "Mz Beautiful" is a fun song about the women of Rio De Janeiro (Brazil) Track three (3)"Share My Love" is a smooth R&B feel saluting one on one love. Track (4) "We don't love the way we used to" Track (5) "Wut We Gon Do"?? Each song is an expression of thought and perspective that you will enjoy. In a few words I would describe this talented artist from Harlem as creatively driven. An energetic soul force that plays Piano, Sings, writes his own songs and acts. Currently set to star in a crime drama in pre production. Also recently finished work on a film "Smokin Aces" Directed by Joe Carnahan which stars Nine(9) time grammy winner Alicia Keys. Without a doubt Alfred is the calm and the storm. He attributes his original style and material to his musical R&B and Rock Roll forefathers. He's socially sensitive, open, honest, to the point and destined. In sum, there's only one way to spell artist and that's A-l-f-r-e-d
