Witty folk music - From satirical to lyrical to spiritual. Simple arrangements recorded live in the studio. 10 MP3 Songs FOLK: Gentle Show all album songs: Unexpected Songs Details: About Unexpected This album started with Andys nephews, Sam and Spencer. After a visit with Uncle Andy they kept singing Eggplant Surprise for weeks. Their dad set up a recording session for his brother as a birthday gift. Note to friends of musicians that is a wonderful present! Andy wanted to capture the feel of a Thursday night jam session, so all the songs were cut live in the studio, in just one or two takes. He is joined by his friends Eric Easterbrook and Roger Blair, both great songwriters in their own right. The cover art is the soundhole of Andys old guitar, made in Brazil about a hundred years ago. About Andy Andy grew up listening to Pete Seeger, and as a teen was inspired by seeing great artists like Stan and Garnet Rogers, Steve Goodman, Jethro Burns and many others. A long-time member and former President of the Paint Creek Folklore Society, he is now the editor of Keepin Tabs, the groups monthly newsletter. A nicely produced version of the song Lighthouse is featured on the groups compilation CD, Music at Lawnridge Hall. In addition to his songwriting, Andy has a great touch on the harmonica. His harp is featured on two other Paint Creek tracks, as well as on the CD "More than Enough" by Eric and Polly Rapp. He gives workshops at Michigan folk festivals (Thumbfest, Evart, Goodison) and performs at benefits and coffeehouses including Live! From the Living Room at the Blue Note in Pontiac. Thanks for visiting!
