A brand new collection of original compositions by pianist/producer Jason Farnham, "Special Times" is a fantastic blend of instrumental piano and new age, which provides the perfect backdrop for any relaxing situation. Total playing time is 54 minutes. 14 MP3 Songs CLASSICAL: New Age, NEW AGE: Ambient
Details: Jason Farnham was born in Brooklyn, NY in 1975. He started playing the piano at age 4. He eventually became very interested in the pop music scene of the 1980's and early 90's, influenced by the large theatrical sounds of bands such as U2 and Simple Minds. He began carving his own style of music, utilizing his unique voice, acoustic guitar and keyboard playing. He currently plays shows in the midwest region of the USA, Cape Cod, and Toronto, Canada and is involved with numerous music projects. He is currently recording his debut pop album in Toronto, Canada with Juno-nominated producer, Douglas Romanow. Jason has also just completed his long-awaited, self-produced instrumental piano album, "Special Times", which is now available for purchase. Featuring 14 original tracks, it contains a blend of both classical and new age elements, occasionally utilizing a backdrop of lush strings to enhance the piano. One track even features a live recording of rain, and another is built around subtle nature sounds. Just under an hour of music (54 min), it will create a beautiful atmosphere for whatever your listening pleasure: dinner music, yoga, or just relaxing! Be sure to pick one up soon...for yourself or as a gift for someone special. Click the individual song listings to listen to samples.
