Details: Kierstin Sieser, Songs from the Seams (myspace.com/kiersieser). Songs from the Seams is a compassionate and memorable album. When she loosens up and lets soul seep in, Sieser's sound reaches a status simultaneously classic and new no mean feat. Her eight-track debut is a tender medley of pretty notes and spare chords that will echo inside your head for hours. Acoustic guitar meets a fiddle meets her effortless-but-evocative lyrics and vocals. Sometimes, as on "Jera," she can get a little too emo, but most of the time, her simplicity strikes a perfect balance. Vivian Nereim from the New Haven Advocate This album was recorded at Dirt Floor Studio with the talented multi instrumentalists, Eric Lichter. MorganEve also adds her golden touch with the fiddle on a few tracks.
