Details: ABOUT THE ARTIST... Mark Abdilla is a concert guitarist, performer who grew up in the San Francisco Bay Area. Although he was originally influenced by pop music, he fell in love with Renaissance and classical genre while earning his music degree at San Francisco State University and has been performing and recording it ever since. ABOUT THE ARTWORK... Mark's CDs are unique as they incorporate his artwork of watercolor and oil paintings, as well as photographs from his travels abroad. ABOUT THE MUSIC... Mark's CDs incorporate lute and guitar music spanning 500 years. His first cd released in 1999, " FROM A DAY GONE BY , " is mostly solo lute pieces that were originally created in the 15th century. Several of his own compositions based on this style are also included. "Lovers Lemurs and Lutists" is his second disc that was also released in 1999, contains Renaissance, Baroque and Classical pieces. Perhaps his most versatile disc. His third disc, "hence", was released in 2002 features an array of sound color created by utilizing Renaissance Era acoustic instruments such as ; autoharp, harpsicord ,lute, recorder, bouzouki, hurdygurdy and percussion. While there is guitar on every piece, this cd offers a unique and colorful blend of tones. The fourth cd "festival of carols" was recorded in 2003, is strictly solo classical guitar style .Mark felt it was necessary to produce a nice holiday guitar cd as there is not a lot available in stores. Most recently Mark released in 2004 what he considers a renaissance masterpiece "renaissance daydream" which contains 22 beautiful lute pieces. It is the only cd that has Mark playing duets,(there are 6 duets on this disc. Reviews "very nice soothing music" -Phil Lesh, Grateful Dead bassist "Mark's performance charisma is beautiful. He lit up the room with his beautiful guitar playing. Magnificent tone quality from a beautiful instrument" -John Brebner Wine Country Theatre

Music Director "very dreamy music, excellent performer" -Carol Matteer, Burrell School Winery
