The long awaited solo debut album, "Strange To The World", has finally hit the streets! With high expectations, this album has exceeded every bar that has been set for it. Combined with some of the hottest wide-range production out, a number of quality guest appearances, and of course that unique character flow of CedEnough, this album has become what it was supposed to be, a definite "must get"! In addition to already receiving its share of airplay on radio stations across the United States, reviewers have selected this album to be among that top to be released in 2005. "You've never heard it done like this before!" If you didn't plan on getting this one, then you really should make a change of plans!!!
