Growing up surrounded by the colorful sounds of country music, gospel and a little rock and roll Sheila developed a voice true to her surroundings. After college Sheila found herself working full time and spending countless hours writing and rehearsing with her first band and although the band lasted only a year Sheila made the choice to chase her dream. Before long Sheila found herself in the studio working on her very first CD. During this time the road became her home. Sheila traveled and performed an average of 50 weeks a year, her music took her around the world. Sheila has toured to places such as Asia where she performed for our troops returning from the war in Iraq, A European tour that ended in France, then went on to play Alaska, Hawaii, and across the U.S. and back. During this time Sheila released an acoustic EP and gained a sponsorship from Budweiser which brought national recognition. Sheila continued writing new songs, perfecting her stage show and building a large following. In 2004, Sheila found herself poised for national success as a cast member on USA Networks Nashville Star. Sheila placed in the top ten out of thousands who auditioned and shared the stage with greats such as Willie Nelson and Rodney Crowell. Since the show Sheila has been working on new material for the upcoming CD which is to be released in 2005, the world stands at the ready to hear what she has to say.
