PressRelease September 12, 2004 Email: email@timtin.de Tim Tin's Projects to Release At Home September 12th Germany: Experimental musician Tim Tin will release his third album under the name Tim Tin's Projects, At Home, on September 7th. While Tim Tin has crafted an eclectic musical career in Germany as a band drummer, singer, and composer of children's musicals, this prolific artist explores more experimental, often psychedelic territory with Tim Tin's Projects. At Home showcases Tim Tin's Project's trademark genre-bending style, which has ventured into dark interpretations of New Age, Jazz, and Funk, in previous albums such as YeTeC and Tim Tin and a Dongle. At Home reveals a new direction towards music that is both lighter in style and subject matter, with all tracks written in English except for two songs written in his native German. This is Tim Tin's Project's most personal album to date. While composition has come easy to Tim Tin in the past, many of the songs on At Home have been reworked for as long as four years. The lyrics on At Home are delivered in a breezy, almost child-like tone, and are masterfully supported by Tim Tin's Project's virtuosic drum, guitar, and keyboard performance. Come embark on a Tim Tin's Project's journey from "the dark blues to the light" with At Home!
