Rhythmic Power Noize from Southern California. 16 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Industrial, ELECTRONIC: Experimental Details: W.A.S.T.E., the rhythmic noize project comprised of duo Shane Englefield and Theo Harper, was established in 2003 and quickly gained a small cult following around the Los Angeles area. Their debut performance at the legendary industrial club Das Bunker, in which they opened for noize icons Converter, solidified their popularity within the Los Angeles industrial scene. They continued to play live shows up and down the West Coast with such musical acts as Terrofakt, Manufactura, and Combichrist. After a small hiatus, W.A.S.T.E. returned to the stage at Das Bunker in April 2006 to present new material from their major release on Sistinas Music. The release, entitled This is what we seek, is being promoted by a North American tour which kicked off in late October 2006. If entropy is our fate, then this thermodynamic duo will lead us to it dancing.
