Details: Long before the mind set in, knowledge was passed from generation to generation. Unspoken wisdom from one gene to another, breathing life into 'UBIQUIUM'. Dalo has spent many years playing piano, however the need to experiment with electronics is most apparent with this album as it concentrates the mixes on sequencing, sampling and resampling with tempo shifts, pitch shifts and re-arranging according to the success of each separate phase of the individual mix. The tempos range from ambient and slow to 130 bpm and dance. Throw in a bit of slow funky acid jazz, a bit of solo grand piano and you have an album that never becomes predictable. Sales of 'UBIQUIUM' have been strong since 2002 and remains one of Dalos' most unique styles.
