Details: In his vast array of artistry, Mr Oneness brings his own interpretations and sharing to the lexicon that is modern music. This composer, singer, guitarist, keyboardist and bassist continues to expand within the electronic music scene with his newest offering. Focusing on innovation and improvisation within the current electronica movement, this musician is just hitting his aural stride. His prolific nature has been slowly unleashed through a constant and participatory presence in underground music communities. Mr Oneness has been recording, writing and performing with various groups like Blanche, Wesley Willis Fiasco, Astra Kelly and the progressive rock band Beckament for years. The 2008 release of his solo CD "Pulsomnium" has been a long time coming and shows the diversity and desire of this relentless musician. A dark and light ride through 12 original compositions that leaves the listener expanded but still questioning. A unique electronic journey for listeners open to its rippling, swirling, haunting but always lovely musicality. It's hearty production is filled with space, bass and evolved psychoacoustic effects. A humble bassist from Chicago, Mr Oneness has ate, slept and breathed music his whole life. Performing gigs at the ripe age of 21 in different rock and punk acts he cut his teeth in the depth and variety that is the Chicago music scene. He earned a Bachelors of Arts degree from Columbia College in Chicago with a major in Sound Engineering. After years of recording and live sound gigs with countless rock, blues, hip-hop, electronic and jazz artists he moved to Denver in the late 90's and has continued to focus on churning out original boundary pushing compositions and live performances.
