I had heard on different forums and from several Internet Marketers that blogging was a great way to make money. So I decided to start my own blog. I really liked writing on my blog. I also enjoyed trying different things with my blog. But I had two problems. The first problem was that I wasnt making any money. Sure, I had a few dollars trickling in every month but it wasnt even enough to buy myself lunch. The other problem was that I didnt have enough visitors. There were days when Id have hundreds of readers but most days my visitors were well below 100. And the visitors I did get werent signing up on my list because they werent targeted. So I decided to buy an eBook on how to monetize my blog. When that didnt work I bought another eBook. And then I bought a course on designing my blog, another eBook, and then I think you get the point... All told I spent more money than I care to admit. And still I wasnt making any real money from my blog. I was writing blogs. It was on the Internet. But nobody was reading what I was writing. I really was blogging in the dark. Then one day a light bulb went off in my head. I decided to stop relying on informational products and to take things into my own hands. And thats just what I did. I couldnt believe the secrets I discovered... Armed with these secrets I started a new blog and 2 weeks later I flipped that blog for an even $1500. Then with the confidence I gained from finally making real money, I went ahead and created more blogs. Now, I have several successful blogs that pull in really good money every single month.
