Country with a southern rock flavor 13 MP3 Songs COUNTRY: Country Rock, COUNTRY: Traditional Country Show all album songs: Now Then Songs Details: The hardest workin man in country music is back and ready for action. Though he was still touring heavily, he had not recorded new material for 3 years. After a 3 year break from recording, Aaron Tippin is now ready to share his new music with his devoted fans and catch some new ears along the way too. After Aaron Tippin parted ways with Lyric Street Records in 2004, he began recording a new cd that he released on his own label called Nippit Records (Tippin spelled backwards). The album is titled "Now And Then" and is a mix of new songs and some of Aaron's greatest hits. Included in the new cd is a song that Aaron and his wife Thea wrote about his father who passed away a couple of years ago. The song is titled "He Believed" and holds a very special place in Aarons heart. Along with recording "Now And Then", Aaron also released 2 brand new music videos, "Ready To Rock(In A Country Kind A Way)" and "He Believed" which starred Aaron's son Teddy as "young Aaron". Aaron made his reputation with such hard core honkey tonk performances as "Working Man's P.H.D.", "You've Got To Stand For Something" and "There Ain't Nothin' Wrong With The Radio". Tippin began performing in local honky tonks in the 1970's. He competed on the TNN show "You Can Be A Star" in 85 landed a songwriter's contract and moved to Music City in 86. Always a focused and purposeful man, Aaron created a work routine that was spartan in it's intensity. He worked the midnight to dawn shift at a factory in KY, commuted to music row to write songs, lifted weights late every afternoon, went to bed, got up and did it all again! The dedication started to pay off. He began winning body building competitions and artists such as Mark Collie, Diamond Rio, David Bell and the Mid-South Boys started recording his songs. Aaron performed his first Nashville night club show in 1990. It earned him a recording contract with RCA Records. Before ever setting foot on tour, he was afforded the opportunity to join Bob Hope on a USO tour to Saudi Arabia during the Gulf war. After his return his hit songs led to concert dates with Brooks and Dunn, Reba McEntire and Hank Williams Jr. Aaron became one of the most memorable country artists of the 90's. In concert he invariably communicated the heart of a poet, the zeal of an evangelist, the humor of a class clown and the soul of a gladiator. His hits sounded like no one else! "My Blue Angel", "That's As Close As I'll Get To Lovin' You" and "I Wouldn't Have It Any Other Way" formed a body of work that is totally individual and in direct contrast to the sound alike records that characterized the era. Five of his RCA albums went gold and one platinum. Between 1990-1997, Aaron scored six hit records and created such memorable moments as "Call Of The Wild", "I Got It Honest" and "Whole Lotta Love On The Line". His work appeared on the soundtracks of films such as "The Beverly Hillbillies" (1993) and "Fire Down Below" (1997). He also became a national spokesman for Channel Lock Tools. Success as a song writer for others continued Garth Brooks, Charley Pride and Kenny Chesney recorded Tippin' tunes. Aaron married his wife Thea in 1995. In 1997 they welcomed son Theodore into their lives with son Thomas arriving in 2000. Aaron also has a beautiful daughter, Charla from his first marriage. Charla is married to Kenneth a Blackhawk pilot in the S.C. Air National Guard. They live South Carolina. Aaron signed with Lyric Street records in 1998 and immediately scored back to back hits with "For You I Will" and "I'm Leaving". Aaron's popularity spiked again in the new millennium thanks to chart topping hits "Kiss This" and "Where The Stars And Stripes And The Eagle Fly". He also received his 6th gold record and his 1st ACM award nomination. For Aaron his career became a lifestyle. "The fans are truly amazing. They're the reason I still have a job. I'm a very lucky man" In 2002 Aaron went to Afghanistan and since then he has been making annual visits to our forces in Iraq and became the celebrity spokesman for the Paralyzed Veterans Of America, the Armed Services YMCA which takes care of the military families while their spouses are overseas and Toys For Tots which the Marines founded. At every show Aaron puts together a bike onstage while performing and brings a Marine up and donates the bike to the children of the community that they are in for Toys For Tots. Aaron has donated over 600 bikes so far. Aaron has been on "The Larry King Show", "Hannity And Colmes" and performed shows for the "Hannity Freedom Concert" and many benefits to support our troops. On top of being one of the greatest performers to hit the country music scene, Aaron also has many other talents. He became a commercial pilot at the age of 17. He owns 4 planes and is also a helicopter pilot. He is an avid hunter and looks forward to personal time with his boys, teaching them how to hunt, fish and enjoy the great outdoors. And don't think his talents end there, you can add welder, truck driver and wine maker to the list. Yes wine maker! Aaron has his own winery and is constantly creating different types of wine. He and Thea love to visit wineries when he has time off.
