Armenian Details: Armenian Music Center presents Arthur Sarukian's CD "What To Do". Arthur Sarukian was born in Armenia city of Ejmiatsin. He studied at the Ejmiatsin Pioneer Palace Music School, specialized in instrumental department. He started to sing when he was 15 years old. He sang at the musical centre of Ejmiatsin. From 1994-1996 he sang at the Leninakan Traditional Instrumental group as the main singer of Armenian traditional songs. He had special private musical classes with Jivan Khatchatryan. They performed numerous concerts in all cities of Armenia, including the Philharmonic Hall of Yerevan. In 2000 he moved to the United States and continued his singing career. In 2005 he had his first single. Currently he attends the musical school named "SAYAT NOVA" to improve his singing skill. My teacher is the very famous traditional singer Margarita Shahinyan. This CD entitled "What To Do" is a rather interesting collection of songs. Tags: pop
