Details: This album was made entirely for the love of creation itself and without any regard to commercial pressures or sales projections. This comes across in the music - an understated and playful album of melodic fantasy music bearing a very slight celtic or medieval touch. The only thing that matters here is the atmospheres, emotions, melodies and moods conveyed by this musical journey to a far-away fantasy world - where beauty, wonders, dangers and adventure greet a curious traveller. This is a CD of melodic instrumental music made with the sole purpose of touching the soul and the spirit of the listener. Whether as background music, or for a full-on listening experience with eyes closed and laid back on the sofa, the composer hopes to show you a little light and darkness from another world. On the CD, each track flows naturally into the next one without any break or silence, creating a continuous, relaxing, inspiring and refreshing musical journey that is bigger than the sum of it's parts.
