But Manila, Philipines based DRIP goes beyond mere trip-hop band clichs: they are meta-glamorous, a little dark, and seductively experimental. Capable of giving you simulated bliss, wrote the Manila Times about the former trio and now a quartet. With an EP independently released in August of 2003 and constant live performances, Drip's cult status grew with Manila's musical cognoscenti. Drip's full-length album called Far Side of the World is out now as Terno Recording's third release. DRIP is: Beng Alcazaren y Calma on Vocals, Malek Lopez on live keyboards, sound design programming, Arvin "Caliph8" Noguerras on turntables FX and Ian "Morse" Magbanua on beats, samples programming.
