Details: Eric OConnell is a songwriter and musician from Duluth, Minnesota. Formerly from central Minnesota, Eric moved to the North Country to spend more time working creatively and enjoying the natural surroundings. The spectacular beauty of the area continues to inspire his songwriting. Courtney OConnell Carlson is Erics oldest daughter who also hails from the Duluth area adds the harmony vocals. Kristin OCooper, Erics younger daughter from Napa, CA, also sings on a couple of tracks. Eric and Courtneys style is classic folk (or some have called his stuff alternative country). Last.fm compares Erics work to artists like John Prine or Townes Van Zandt. One of Erics fans notes, The songs he writes are warm and moving really intimate. Eric paints a picture with his words and the strong musical line deepens the hue. Erics work is real real people and places - we can picture them, we know them. And everyone loves to hear Erics skill on the Gurian steel-string guitar. OConnell, Carlson, and OCooper are down-to-earth musicians, friendly, soulful folk.
