Upbeat bluegrass songs that will get your toes a tappin'. Kid approved, won't make parents gag. 9 MP3 Songs COUNTRY: Bluegrass, KIDS/FAMILY: General Children's Music Details: What folks are saying about Give a Hootenanny!... "For lovers of country looking for records to bring to the little twangers in the household, this is a sweet find- not just stomachable to those less close to the very front end of that "1-101" age range claimed in the title, but kind of a kick on its own terms. " - Barry Mazor, No Depression Magazine Heidi is a "real pistol"! - TV's Rue McClanahan "Give a Hootenanny is full of smart, sassy, and punchy lyrics that are about being a good person. [Heidi's] songs make you sing, laugh and think."- Michelle Schwegmann, Herbivore Magazine "If you like your music with a Nashville feel, you will love Heidi Howe's first children's music release subtitled "Twangy Tunes About Lovin' the Earth." Favorite songs at our house include "On My Bike" and "Yo Mama." - Fred Koch, The Chicago Parent Magazine "Howe shows herself to be a wonderful children's music creator. Her charm and musical command transcend age (and most other) boundaries."- Mike Breen, The City Beat, Cincinnati, Ohio "I enjoyed [Heidi's] unique voice and cool songs." - Dave Higgs, Bluegrass Breakdown, Nashville Public Radio "Give A Hootenanny with Heidi Howe is a wildly refreshing musical treat!" - Will Hale, Family Groove kids internet radio "It is truly a delight to be introduced to such enlightened music." - Jennifer Reinfeld, Children of the Earth United "I love that twangy music!" "I'll be playing more for sure!" - Hosts of The Childrens Hour, KUMN 89.9 FM, Albuquerque, NM "I love it! It's really good!"- Kathy O'Connell, Host, The Kids Corner, WXPB-FM, Philadelphia, PA "You don't have to buy into Howe's ecological philosophy to enjoy her music, but by the end of the album you'll be won over by her vivacity and spunk." - Kory Wilcoxson, The Louisville Music News "It's pretty neat." - Patrick "Paddy" O'Shea, Host, The All-Ages Show, WPRB 103.3 FM, Princeton, NJ
