Folk with a rock attitude, rock with a folk you attitude - with clues, Ya know what I mean? 10 MP3 Songs

FOLK: Political, ROCK: Acoustic Details: Like a complete unknown I came into this world in the usual way and into the usual soap opera of family. A long suffering grade school piano student, I got hold of a guitar at 11, dropped the piano (but not on my foot) and wrote my first song. The first music I remember noticing was from the secret spaces of my teenage siblings. Buddy Holly, Elvis and Little Richard from my much older brother Bob Dylan, Donovan and Simon and Garfunkle from my older sistah. At 12, I began playing drums, and then played drums throughout high school in a cover band turned original because of MOI and the Beatles. I switched to electric guitar to make it easier to sing and went professional after high school. At twenty I had a Materialism Melt-Down, became a Hindu monk for eight years and nearly died in India. I returned to music and songwriting 'n I picked up the bass because a good bass player is hard to find. Different bands and different plans have come and gone; I guess I've come full circle, writing and playing songs on guitar, except I do my own overdubbing and play all the instruments to boot. It's great fun, it keeps life simple and my art pure. So Bob's your f'n uncle! Mick Loughlin
