ROCK: Psychedelic, ROCK: Modern Rock Details: Julian Mack was born and raised in Munich (thats in Bavaria, a southern province of Germany). He started playing the guitar at age 17; only one year later, he had his first performance with all of his friends, family, fellow students, and teachers watching. Julian performed Paganini's 24th Violin Concerto, arranged for guitar and piano. It was truly a Malmsteen level performance, at the tender age of 18 never the less. After Graduation, Julian moved to London where he studied Music. After he received his bachelors, he moved to Los Angeles to pursue a career in music. In the late 90's, after numerous collaboration attempts with various bands and musicians, he decided to start his first solo project. In 2005, Julian finished his third album: "Have You No Decency?", which according to him is his favorite to date since it is the first album that truly captures his style and musical voice. HYND is also the first album ever to be recorded specifically for surround sound. The album is available at CDBaby and iTunes, it can be purchased on DVD, featuring both the surround sound and stereo mix, as well as on CD, which only includes the stereo version. He can also be heard on Marty Friedman's (ex-lead guitarist from Megadeth) new instructional DVD: "Marty Friedman 99 Secret Lead Guitar Phrases", where Julian is featured as lead guitarist on the bonus track, available here: martyfriedmandvd.com
