Details: The Filipino master takes the richness of ivory in hand to present you his pulse-pounding insights into the dimensions of Philippine music. POLDING SILOS as he is fondly called, along with his Symphonettes, takes to the keyboard this time for his first album of Filipino Love Songs. With all the songs as his own interpretative mood of what now are all classic. Truly, he is the maestro on the piano when it comes to Filipino love songs. The man who gave you the famous Manila Bay Rhumba . The composer who with Manuel P. Villar Sr. penned for you the now equally famous Diyos lamang ang Nakakaalam and Armida Siguion-Reyna theme song, Aawitan Kita. The musical arranger who was responsible for most of the classic albums of Ruben Tagalog and Sylvia La Torre. And finally, the CAT Awardee for his musical directions of the much-lauded musicale, Aawitan Kita, and of which he was given such accolade as this: For mining the treasures of Philippine music, and for his skilled management of these in ways that invite both nostalgia and empathy Such is the master ---Leopoldo Silos. And now to offer you a bouquet of love songs. Love Songs that in a way, in their touching melody are fully, deeply Filipino.
