His musical journey began at the age of four when his sister dropped a Coca-Cola bottle on his head. He went into the house and began to cry. His crying harmonized with the theme song to Soul Train. This marked the beginning of his career as a singer. Charles is noted throughout the Carolinas as a distinguished thespian for his lead roles in Dream Girls, Joe Turner Come and Gone, and Fiddler on the Roof. He appeared on the PBS Special Duke Ellingtons Sacred Music and is a Showtime at the Apollo Winner. In 1997 Minister Hyman accepted his calling into the ministry. He was licensed and ordained under Full Gospel Ministries of New York. Charles served as the Minister of Music for the U.S. Army General Protestant and Gospel Services at Fort Drum, New York, and Yongsan, Korea as well as St. Luke Disciples of Christ in Tarboro, North Carolina. In 2000 he sang with John P. Kee and the New Life Church Choir. Minister Charles Hyman released his debut CD, I Surrender, in March. I Surrender features 13 tracks which range from Christian Worship Ballads, Traditional Hymns, Contemporary to Urban. Charles sings with power and conviction under the anointing. The musical and ministerial depth of the CD touches the very soul of each listener. TESTIMONIAL Minister Charles Hyman grew up in a single parent home in Tarboro, North Carolina. At the age of 22 months, God called his mother to reach her final destiny of eternal life. His maternal grandmother raised him along with ten other siblings. The family was economically destitute but rich in faith, love, and hope. Charles, the first and only child to further his education, graduated from North Carolina Central University with a Bachelors of Arts degree in Music

Education and Performance. While attending NCCU, he had many unanswered questions as he wrestled with his faith. At the end of his senior year, he watched as his friends affectionately loved their mothers and cried unto God and questioned Him as to why He took his mother. In the same instance as Charles asked the question, he felt and heard a calm, sobering, and mystical voice ask, "If your mother was living, would you have gone to college?" Education was not stressed in his community. It was unc customary to attend college. Once graduating from high school, young men would get a job to help supplement the bills. The voice went on to say, "Jesus is your mother. He'll never leave you nor forsake you. You only have one Father and He's in Heaven. There is work for you to do. From this point on Minister Hyman knew he was not alone. He could rest in the arms of Christ. God refueled him and gave him strength to focus his efforts on kingdom building. In 2003 Minister Hyman founded C-LUV Ministries. C-LUV Ministries nurtures the spiritual renewal and advancement of the saved and unsaved communities. It helps Christians apply Gods principles, overcome obstacles, and encourage individuals to develop and maintain a personal relationship with God through Jesus Christ our Lord.
