This new music was created spontaneously during the summer month of July 2006. The music reflects a global and or specific view of the geo political events occurring during this summer. Many of the musical elements presented on this Cd can be identified and interpreted. Multiple listenings may cause the listener to reevaluate his or her's interpretation of the music and perhaps to reevaluate the listener's perspective in regard to the artist's intent. This is very real music designed to challenge the listener. This is the tenth Cd of The Exploration Project. On this Cd, I play a Korg Synthesizer and a Korg Sampling Device. I particularly like track 7. All the music was developed spontaneously, without writing any musical notation. Additionally, each track was done in one take. This is what makes this music and all the other music of The Exploration Project interesting. You can communicate with me via my e mail at explorationproj@aol.com. Please use proper civility when doing so or I will not respond. Also, my website is explorationproj.com.. It should be pointed out that this Cd does not come with shrink wrap as I have taken it off in order to INITIAL each Cd which was sent to CDBABY. Use the track times located on the back of the disc jacket. Not the one located on the disc itself. Thanks for the support- Scott M. Rifkin - The Exploration Project 7/26/07
