ELECTRONIC: Ambient, CLASSICAL: New Age Details: ABOUT THE ALBUM Breaking new ground in the Electronic Music genre, Shayne White's debut solo album, The Opposite Way, is comprised of ten original compositions performed on an array of virtual analog, FM, and sample-based synthesizers, along with acoustic instruments such as Celtic harp and recorder. Shayne's sophisticated studio, centered around CreamWare's innovative Pulsar system, has enabled him to craft high-quality, intricate soundscapes that appeal to music lovers and technology enthusiasts alike. Though exhibiting influences ranging from Celtic Music, Early Music, New Age, Progressive Rock, and even Jazz, The Opposite Way maintains a feeling of unity that is one of the hallmarks of Shayne's characteristic style. Featuring eighty minutes of music on two CDs! ABOUT THE ARTIST Harper, composer, dancer, writer, and keyboardist, Shayne White comes from a long line of artists and musicians. At age eight he began studying Medieval and Celtic harp with acclaimed harpist Cheryl Ann Fulton and soon went on to learn Scottish step-dancing under the tutelage of such fine dancers as Maggie Moore, Mary Janet MacDonald, and Sara Gratiot. Now seventeen years of age, Shayne is a primary member of the Celtic and Early Music ensemble Distant Oaks, and he has performed throughout the Western United States, Scotland, and Ireland. He has recorded with several well-known Celtic musicians, including Jerry O'Sullivan, Liz Carroll, and Patrick Ball. Shayne's harp background has helped provide the building blocks for his Electronic Music career. In 1997, Shayne began composing Electronic Music on a General MIDI sound card in his spare time, and eventually his endeavors led to a full-scale recording project. Over the years he has upgraded his studio to include some of the finest state-of-the-art electronic instruments and recording equipment currently available. Shayne lives in the wine country of Sonoma County, California, along with his cat, Murphy, and his dog, Gwyn.
