unique improvised avant pop.....playful, sensual, powerful, intelligent, with a voice of great dimension and expression 13 MP3 Songs POP: Quirky, JAZZ: Weird Jazz Details: Sabrina Siegel voice, keyboard, folk lute, cello Arlan Schwarzbauer drums, drum machines, samples Robert Scofield synth, keyboard Vicente Ramirez synth, samples David Landazuri accordion, charanga, trombone This is the pure playfulness and intensity of the improvisational performance of ONOMATOPEIA when joined by Sabrina Siegel. Very theatrical in nature, it captures a human expression in the authenticity and candidness of her being (its intimacy, sensuality, a spontaneity with a wide range of emotional and intellectual content). Most of these pieces are the expression of a joy/intensity and way that comes from a mindfulness driven by the longing to relate this more somewhat utopian/free vision. They explore beauty, mind, love, and presence as well as the heavier experiences of fear, the weight of gravity, and other possible realities.
