Her mother, a barbershop quartet singer is a large influence. Her love for music continued on in her adult life where she began singing, writing, performing and recording rock music. She eventually shifted into spiriutally based rock. Andrea has a powerful way with lyrics and has inspired many to improve their lives. The greatest blessing for her is to know that even one person is affected by the work that she puts out into the world. Her songs are solely based on experience whether it is the loss of a loved one or forgiving a seemingly unforgiveable event. Andrea hopes to touch lives in a positive way. Andrea's undying love for rock n roll will always shine through her music. Recently picking up the guitar has freed her up even more to write songs without collaboration.
