Angelo Luster infuses the sounds of contemporary gospel and smooth jazz. 12 MP3 Songs JAZZ: Smooth Jazz, GOSPEL: Contemporary Gospel Details: ANGELO LUSTER BIOGRAPHY "A rose sprung from a rock" are the words critics use to describe Oakland, California native Angelo Luster, a saxophonist whose music invites the listener to embark upon a unique spiritual journey. You will without a doubt be enraptured by the emotion conveyed through his rich soulful sound, birthed from the union of contemporary gospel and the west coast jazz movements. At age twelve, he was accepted on scholarship to the Young Musicians Program at the University of California, Berkeley, where he trained for six years in jazz and classical music. This led Luster to realize his purpose in life, "inspire others through my music". Luster was taught by Bill Bell and Jim Moran who previously trained Dave Ellis, Tony, Toni, Tone guitarist, John Smith, Rodney Franklin, and Benny Green. Luster, like his classmates, got a range of experience after high school through performances in jazz festivals throughout the United States and Europe. MUSICAL EXPERIENCES Luster received a scholarship to Grambling State University where he achieved the position of featured saxophone soloist. He also earned the honor of being spotlighted with such artists as Boyz II Men. He was favored as one of the top college musicians of America and chosen to play in the All American College Marching Band by the Walt Disney Company in 1993, and the Company's All American Jazz Band in 1994. Luster spent his summers playing in big bands behind such greats as, Rosemary Clooney, Mercer Ellington, Maynard Ferguson, Diane Schurr, Dela Reese, Billy Taylor, Joe Williams, and other seasoned performers. After obtaining his Bachelor of Music degree from Southeastern Louisiana University in 1996, Luster returned home and began to perform internationally with St. Gabriel's Celestial Brass Band. CURRENT PROJECTS Luster celebrated the release of his first solo album entitled "Face 2 Face", in July of 2004. The album is an intimate reflection of his spirituality and desire to lead listeners into the presence of God. In addition to the album, Luster performs in a host of venues with his quartet which exemplifies the diverse sounds of his upbringing, the UC Berkeley's Young Inspirational Gospel Choir and conducts instrumental music workshops nationwide.
