Texas country music to the core. 7 MP3 Songs COUNTRY: Traditional Country, COUNTRY: Modern Country Details: Dave Kirby is a 100 percent independent Texas based singer songwriter who credits his latest accomplishment to the first class musicians and friends he plays with. Best described as he jokingly does of himself in the title track as a "redneck version of Dylan", Dave has finally turned out his long awaited debut album and is on his way to becoming one of the fresh faces to burst on the Texas red dirt music scene today. If you enjoy listening to good, down home story telling with smoking hot telecaster guitar licks (courtesy of the legendary Billy Hillman), you will thoroughly enjoy this album. Dave's songs are all about real life, real love, and real trouble and he lays his life out for everyone to hear on this almost autobiographical CD. This Katy, Tx. song writer ranges his story telling from the red hot title track "I Wasn't Born In Texas" to a humorous insight of his life threatening, alcohol induced fall from grace and subsequent recovery in "Three Chords and a Bad Memory". In between you will find a powerful, touching tribute to victims of hurricane Katrina and the beautifully produced Christmas track "Pennies Come From Heaven" which could very well be slated for chart status in the 2006 Christmas season. A two stepping tune "I Hate To Leave You Baby", and the high and lonesome "Sing Me Back To Texas" plus an acoustic tribute to his beloved honky tonk heroes with "Outlaws Make The World Go Round". These songs have made Dave a favorite with the Texas ice house crowds. These are small, open air Texas bars which incidentally are among his favorite places to just hangout, play his tunes, and make new friends and fans. As one Corpus Christi DJ put it so aptly "Who needs Nashville when you've got these real life story tellers right here in Texas"?
