We would like to see the most talented musicians in the industry making great music. As the owner of Collective Thought Management, Nathaniel Davis brings 10 plus years of music industry know-how to the company. He has worked with various independent record labels and is currently working with developing several artists. Chris Joseph, the owner of eForPurchase Productions, has over 7 years experience in music production. He has created over 100 songs for artists, ranging from R&B to Techno. We believe that the current music market is saturated with subpar performers, lackluster cd releases, and monotonous radio airplay. We would like to change this by providing only the highest quality sounds to our audience. As a record label, we intend to single out songs that we feel are both quality and marketable.
