The songs of Stroke of Genius ring with a universal harmony." The supporting players are deservedly among the most well respected of our time. Steve Gadd, Warren Bernhardt, Art Garfunkel, The Dixie Hummingbirds, Mike Esposito and John Sebastian. They rock with a depth and a tenderness that's hard to find in any age. BOSTON GLOBE This CD is not just a collection of songs. It's an album...and I love it. LOUISE COOGAN, National Record Promoter, Adult Rock Radio "This is a beautiful record. And the story is so powerful, Gorgeous sounding." JIM BARANSKI, CEO National Stroke Association Marc...listened to the studio mix on my 6 hour flight home. Amazing...I am so excited about your and Dan's work, and about what we can do for all the survivors in this country not as fortunate to have 'friends' like you. It's time to give them the dignity they so deserve.. JAY SPICCA, Chronogram "There are fourteen tracks that feel like a two act play, with seven songs on each side of this tale of before and after. Music and lyrics are a perfect fit, and most of the tunes have simple arrangements that let the soul of the music shine through. One song, Rewired, is a techno/Frank Zappa style translation of the experiences of someone who has just returned from space. Marc Black is a musical adventurer, stretching effortlessly between techno-funk jams and classic Americana." JENNIFER NATHAN, WAMC "Thanks for sending your CD - it sounds great!" RON ARDEN "I simply cannot remember when I enjoyed EXPERIENCING an artist and his music as much as I enjoyed you and your friends/band simply ... fuse and celebrate. Gifted artists sharing/experiencing their energies."
