YOUNG ISTET SERENADE is foray into the area of music space that represents the core of my Sound Philosophy, Isophonics. The theory of composed improvisation of stillness in the fluidity of constant change. The thingness of actualized sound in the nothingness of acoustic evaporation and recreation from the source of the indwelling presence. This occurs at a speed which defies conscious comprehension but which reveals abundant spiritual revelatory aspects. It requires a state of emersion and a freedom to reach toward virtuosic trust and semiconscious execution of the revealed composition. Upon returning to a conscious state one hears what was created as though it is being presented. The thought then thinks about what was thought and executed as a comprovisation of point instant mixed and remixed sound devices: Breath, Posture, Devotion, Bass Clarinet, Soprano G and Bb Clarinets and Saxophone, Kalimbas, Native American Flutes, Electronic Accoutrements, Voice, Percussion, Mac Book, Family, Pen and the One. The 10 pieces were chosen from 55 comprovisations created over the past year. My Travels to and playing in the atmospheres of Israel, Prague, Rome, London, Paris, Santa Fe, New Mexico and Istanbul combined with my formative years in Kansas City, Missouri and the Bay Area of Northern California and my current residence in Brooklyn, New York inform my music with ever expanding inspirations and possibilities. ISTET SERENADE is a slice of the possible. Thusly partially defined as: Spatial acid drones of intense acoustic chill, embracing ambient, world, avant garde, cosmic free and chamber jazz. rolandpyoung rpy@rolandpyoung.com
