I sang at night to the neighbors (and anyone in a one block radius), even though they didn't always appreciate the serenading." It was then, around the age of thirteen, the illusion was ingrained. Ms. Grace had studied the Classical Masters, favoring the brooding storms and delicate melodies of Chopin, who's piano works inspired her to create. She began writing her own compositions The Massachusetts native graduated from college with her BA in Music Performance where upon completion, she moved to the South West and worked in a recording studio. With career experience in tow, she moved to Los Angeles where she recorded her current album. She currently plays in the Los Angeles area, is signed with Opus 1 Music Library and is working on her second full-length album.
