Danielle says, "I used to lay on the floor as a baby, picking at the carpet and listening to my mom play classical piano. Her music seemed to talk, making me feel comforted and tended to. I have always associated classical piano with the feeling of my mom's love." She adds: "Music listens to me and comforts me. This music was a gift to me when I suffered most. It only continues to manifest when I share it. So I hope you will accept this gift, which was given to me by my musical teachers. I hope I can give it to our society, our baby."
