Details: Hhhes is lead by master percussionist Dend, a former member of the world band Timbalada. Based in NYC the group performs a mixture of Brazilian and Cuban music as well as other influences in the African diaspora. Formed in 2002, Hhhes is named after the Indian tribe Patax-Hhhes that once inhabited the city of Salvador in Bahia, Brazil. Lead by master Afro-Brazilian percussionist Dend, the beat is always central and is tempered by thought provoking lyrics and sweet melodies. A former member of Timbalada, Dend has been performing professionally since the age of 14. With Timbalada he toured all over Brazil, Europe and Asia, appeared on various television shows including Xuxa, Fausto and Ileana and has performed and recorded with such artists as Marisa Monte, Gilberto Gil, Carlinhos Brown, Yvette Sangalo and Sepultura. As a member of Timbalada, Dend recorded many of their albums. Having left Brazil in 2001, Dend now lives in the US, performing with his groups Hhhes, an Afro-Brazilian/Afro-Cuban fusion band, Arrasto an Afro-Brazilian percussion band and Ologund, a traditional Afro-Brazilian group as well as many other performing groups. Dend can be seen performing in New York City with the Afro-Brazilian band Ogans and was a regular member of the jam sessions at Walker Stage. Dend has performed at the Mercado Cultural in Salvador da Bahia, Brazil with the exceptional jazz improvisation ensemble Speak in Tones which was lead by Daniel Moreno and Mike Ellis and also featured Cheikh Tidiane Seck, Graham Haynes, Adam Rudolph and many others. Since then he also appeared on stage with Giovanni Hidalgo, Zakir Hussain, Adam Rudolph and many other exceptional musicians as part of the World Music Institute benefit concert. He has been featured in performances with the Italian singer/percussionist Alessandra Belloni and has performed internationally with Vinicius Cantuaria.
