DOWNLOAD HERE

Ten Cats Laughing, Americana and rootsy to the core, sings original tunes and covers about the cosmic twists, turns, tricks, and jokes inflicted on the folks who live in their songs. 13 MP3 Songs COUNTRY: Country Folk, ROCK: Americana Details: Ten Cats Laughing is acoustic duo Guy and Lisa Dicharry. When forced to describe our music we call it . . . "our music". Some of it is original, we dare say singer songwriter, and played in a style which could be described as Americana-roots-folk-country-bluegrass-eclectic-comedic. Guy plays some of the instruments and Lisa plays the other ones. Some of the instruments include guitars, resonator, mandolin, blues harp, and the other instruments include banjo and guitar. Guy and Lisa grew up in Baton Rouge and New Orleans. Lisa's diverse musical roots also include the music of her ancestors from Kentucky and Ohio. Guy's musical roots and influences are decidedly non-diverse and originate almost entirely in South Louisiana. We live next to the Rio Grande in Los Lunas, NM. Lisa: I am inspired by Bill Keith, Ravel, Nancy Sinatra, Lucinda Williams, Grace Slick, Leonard Bernstein, Minnie Pearl, anyone named Joni-Joan-John, Ian and Sylvia, my farm animals, and many southern roots musicians too numerous to count. Guy: I listened to all of the music of South Louisiana while growing up there, including the rhythm and blues of the region, "Sing Along with Mitch" records, Porter Wagoner and Dolly Parton on television, Delta blues, folk, the Chipmunks, rock, and Cajun music. My guitar playing has been influenced by Doc Watson, George Harrison, Django Reinhardt, Eric Clapton, Jerry Reed, Mick Taylor, Freddie Green, Keith Richards, Clarence White, and every guitar player that I have tried to steal licks from. We have played music just about all our lives and will play just about anytime or anywhere. And by the way, the cover art is by that great woodcarver, Kimo Minton.
